The Workshops

Preparing for a Party

Lady Catherine will welcome you to No.1 and teach you the rules of refined behaviour. Dress up as an elegant Georgian lady or gentleman then learn some dance steps and design a dance card or write an invitation with a quill and ink.

Meet the Housekeeper

The Housekeeper will greet you at the door and introduce you to the life of a servant at No.1 with costumes, role-play and the chance to wash laundry and use a carpet beater. Examine original objects including a teapot and butter pats.

"I really enjoyed writing with the quill and ink..."

Cooking a Feast

The Housekeeper will ask you to help plan a grand feast at No.1. Learn about 18th century food then measure and mix the ingredients for Bath buns. Examine an original porcelain plate and jelly glass.

Key stage 3: Social Etiquette & Fashion in Jane Austen's Bath

Step into the shoes (and clothes!) of characters including Catherine Morland in Northanger Abbey to find out about the strict standards in houses like No.1. You can try on Georgian style wigs and make-up to transform yourself into a Jane Austen hero or heroine.

HERSCHEL MUSEUM OF ASTRONOMY

In the garden of this Georgian house, William Herschel discovered the planet Uranus in 1781.

You can watch a film, follow a trial and create an orrery (a tool for understanding the solar system).

MUSEUM
OF BATH
ARCHITECTURE

How and why was Georgian Bath built? You can find out by exploring a giant 3D map, trying out original tools and learning how houses were designed and decorated both inside and out.

BECKFORD'S
TOWER AND MUSEUM

Imagine becoming the richest man in England aged just 10. William Beckford built his Tower in 1827 to contain his collection of books and beautiful objects. Find out about his life and climb 154 spiral steps to see the best view in Bath.
